

Terms and conditions - Privacy policy

An online shop owned by Re Ltd. With its registered office in Białystok, ul. Kolejowa 12E, entered in the Register of Entrepreneurs of the National Court Register under KRS number 0000787214, operated under the following website: <https://renteye.com>.

I. The Regulations apply to the commercial and service activities of Re Ltd. With its registered office in Białystok conducted with the use of an Internet shop at the website in the Internet network: www.renteye.com. The Regulations have been drawn up in accordance with the national and applicable provisions of the European Union law and the users of the online shop accept these terms and conditions on the basis of which Re Ltd. With its registered office in Białystok provides goods or services.

1. The administrator of the website is Re Ltd., based in Białystok.
2. Copyright or property rights to the content and works posted on the website belong to or are exercised by Re Ltd. With its registered office in Białystok.
3. The website as a whole, as well as its separable parts, is protected by law, i.e. In particular by the provisions of: the Civil Code, the Act on Copyright and Related Rights, the Act on Combating Unfair Competition.
4. Re Ltd., Białystok, does not give its express or implied consent to anyone - with respect to the rights and objects described in para. 3 above - for their use, exploitation, publication or modification in any way whatsoever, i.e. In particular in publications, publications, presentations, websites and in any other way whatsoever covered by the Copyright Act.
5. In the event of infringement of the prohibitions under para. 4 and unlawful use of the rights or objects from para. 3, Re Ltd. With its registered office in Białystok or the holders of copyrights to the works will assert their rights before the courts.
6. The user has the right to use the entire content published on the website provided that the protection of para. 3 and in accordance with the purpose of this publication.
7. The website uses "cookies" to identify your browser when you use the website. Cookies do not collect any personal data. The data collected, such as the user's browser type, time spent on the website, etc., are used to analyse the statistics of the individual websites and may be used by Re Ltd., Białystok, to optimise the website and business processes. Re Ltd., Białystok, may share data obtained through cookies with its service providers:
 - Fabric, Firebase and Google Analytics provided by Google LLC; address: Mountain View, California, United States: collects data about the User's device (such as hardware model, operating system version and unique device identifier, as well as mobile network information including phone number), location information, unique application number, of which some data, including personal data, is stored in the cache of the User's device or application - so-called cookies.
 - Facebook, Inc. 1 Hacker Way (9,606.83 km), 94025 Menlo Park, California, USA; HTTP headers contain, among other things, IP addresses, as well as information about the web browser, the location of the page, the document, the source of the redirect and the person using the website, used to monitor conversions, custom audience groups from the website and custom audience groups from the mobile app, and API User verification.
 - Hubspot, Inc. Address: 25 First Street, 2nd Floor Cambridge, MA 02141 USA; HTTP headers include, but are not limited to, IP addresses, as well as information about the web browser, page location, document, redirection source and the person using the website, used to monitor conversions

8. Unless expressly stated otherwise, the offers presented on the website do not constitute offers within the meaning of the Civil Code, i.e. As a rule they are of an informational nature or an invitation to negotiate.
9. Any matters not covered by this Privacy Policy shall be governed by the relevant legal provisions.

II. Personal Data Protection

1. Personal data shall be processed by Re Ltd., based in Białystok, in accordance with the provisions of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (hereinafter: GDPR), and national legislation on the protection of personal data of natural persons.
2. Personal data collected through all kinds of forms on the Administrator's websites, including, among others: information such as: name and surname, contact telephone number, e-mail address, web address and company name, are used only to identify the Customer, establish business contact with them, provide the Customer with free materials prepared by the Administrator, provide a valuation of services provided by the Administrator, conduct business negotiations with the Customer and conclude and perform a contract. If the Customer agrees, the personal data provided by him/her will be used by the Administrator for the purposes of marketing its own products and services or marketing the products and services of third parties and for the purposes of monitoring traffic on the Administrator's website (profiling).
3. Personal data collected by means of all kinds of forms on websites will be processed by the Administrator for the time necessary to provide the Customers with free materials or valuation of the Administrator's services; for the duration of commercial negotiations aimed at concluding a contract (no longer, however, than one year from the date of receiving a commercial offer by the Customer), and further for the time of performing the contract or providing the service, as well as for the time during which the Administrator is obliged to keep the sales documents and expiry of any claims related to the given contract.
4. Personal data collected through all kinds of forms on the Administrator's websites are processed on the basis of the person's consent (Article 6(1)(a) GDPR), and also on the basis of Article 6(1)(b) GDPR, i.e. Their processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is a party, or to take action at the request of the data subject prior to entering into a contract. At any time, consent to the processing of personal data may be withdrawn by the Administrator's Customers. The withdrawal of consent to data processing shall not affect the lawfulness of data processing performed by the Administrator on the basis of consent before its withdrawal.
5. Withdrawal of consent can be done by the Customer sending to the e-mail address: contact@renteye.com a statement with an example wording:

Acting on behalf of (name of entity) with its registered office in (address of registered office) as its (function of the person making the statement with proof of his/her authority to represent the entity)/ or I - name and surname, address of residence - hereby withdraw my consent to the processing of my personal data by Re Ltd. With its registered office in Białystok.

6. The categories of recipients to whom the personal data of the Administrator's customers may be disclosed are in particular: employees or contractors of the Administrator's associates, accounting offices, law firms, auditors, banks and insurers, national debt registers, courts and prosecutors' offices, police and tax authorities, bailiffs, debt collectors or debt collectors.
7. Re Ltd, based in Białystok, does not and will not transfer Customers' personal data to recipients in third countries or to international organisations.

8. Re Ltd. With its registered office in Białystok processes the Customers' personal data with the use of computer systems and software ensuring the security of processing such personal data at an appropriate level (such as, among others, encryption and anonymisation of transmitted information, cyclic changes of passwords to access systems). The Administrator processes the personal data of its Customers outside the computer system with the use of technical and organisational measures ensuring an appropriate level of security of personal data processing.
9. The data subject shall have the right to access and rectify the content of his/her data and to erase it (right to be forgotten), to restrict its processing, the right to data portability, the right to withdraw consent to its processing at any time without affecting the lawfulness of the processing carried out on the basis of consent before its withdrawal.
10. The data subject has the right to object to the processing of his/her data by the Administrator. The objection should be brought to the address: RE Ltd. 12E Kolejowa St., 15-701 Białystok
11. If the data subject considers that the processing of his/her personal data by the Administrator violates the provisions of the Personal Data Protection Regulation, he/she has the right to lodge a complaint with the President of the Personal Data Protection Authority, 2 Stawki Street, 00-193 Warsaw.
12. In the event of a personal data breach, the Administrator shall, without undue delay where possible and no later than 72 hours after the breach has been identified - report it to the supervisory authority from point. 12, unless the breach is unlikely to result in a risk of violation of the rights or freedoms of natural persons. The Administrator shall attach an explanation of the reasons for the delay to the notification submitted to the supervisory authority after the expiry of 72 hours. If the personal data breach is likely to result in a high risk of infringement of the rights or freedoms of natural persons, the Administrator shall notify the data subject of such breach without undue delay.

III.-Principles of personal data processing by Re Ltd., Białystok, as the Personal Data

The Administrator shall observe the following principles when processing personal data:

1. The principle of lawfulness, fairness and transparency of data processing, according to which data shall be processed by the Administrator lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner for the data subject.
2. Purpose limitation of data processing - data shall be collected by the Administrator in a way that is compatible with the purposes of the processing. Further processing for archival purposes in the public interest, for scientific or historical research purposes or for statistical purposes is not considered by the Administrator to be incompatible with the original purposes.
3. Minimisation of the amount of data processing - the Administrator shall process such amount of data as is adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary for the purposes for which they are processed.
4. Correctness of the processed data - The Administrator shall only process data that are correct and updated as necessary. The Administrator shall take all reasonable steps to ensure that personal data which are inaccurate in the light of the purposes for which they are processed are deleted or rectified without delay.
5. Limitation of the length of time and purposes for which data may be stored - The Administrator shall store data in a form which permits identification of the data subject for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the data are processed. The Administrator may store personal data for a longer period insofar as it will be stored for statistical purposes. At the same time, the Administrator shall implement appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect the rights and freedoms of the data subjects.
6. Ensuring data processing with integrity and confidentiality - shall process data in a manner that ensures adequate security of personal data, including protection against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage, by means of appropriate technical or organisational measures.

7. Principle of accountability - Re Ltd. Of Bialystok is responsible for and is able to demonstrate compliance with all the principles of personal data processing listed in points 1 - 6. The Administrator shall implement appropriate technical and organisational measures to ensure the highest level of security of the personal data it processes, and this in accordance with the principles listed above.

IV. Information obligations of the Data Administrator

Depending on whether Re Ltd, based in Bialystok, collects data from the data subject or otherwise than from the data subject, the EU Data Protection Regulation imposes separate information requirements on the Administrator.

Information obligations of the Data Administrator common to both situations where data have been collected from the data subject and indirectly:

1. Obligation to provide the Administrator's identity, contact details and the identity and contact details of the Administrator's representative.
2. An obligation to provide the contact details of the Data Protection Officer (if one has been appointed).
3. Indication of the purposes of the processing of personal data and the legal basis for the processing.
4. An obligation to provide information on the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal data will be communicated.
5. Obligation to inform about the intention to transfer personal data to a third country or an international organisation, if applicable.
6. Obligation to indicate the period for which personal data will be stored and, where this is not possible, to indicate the criteria for determining this period.
7. Obligation to provide information on the rights of data subjects.
8. An obligation to provide information on the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority (the full name of this authority and its address shall be provided).
9. An obligation to inform the data subject whether the provision of personal data is a statutory or contractual requirement or a condition for entering into a contract and whether the data subject is obliged to provide such data and what are the possible consequences of failing to do so.
10. The obligation to inform about automated decision-making, including profiling
11. The obligation to inform about a new purpose of data processing than the one indicated in the original information:

Information obligations of the Administrator when data have not been collected from the data subject (i.e. Indirectly)

Re Ltd. Of Bialystok in such a case must additionally inform the data subject of:

- a) The categories of personal data concerned which are processed - i.e. The type of data processed, e.g. Name, address, date of birth, etc,
- b) The source of the data and, where applicable, whether it comes from publicly available sources.

Exemption of the Administrator who indirectly obtained the data from the information obligation

An Administrator who has obtained data indirectly is not obliged to comply with the information obligation if:

- a) The data subject already has this information at his disposal;
- b) The provision of such information proves impossible or would involve a disproportionate effort; in particular where data are processed for archiving purposes in the public interest, for scientific or historical research purposes or for statistical purposes;
- c) The collection or disclosure is expressly governed by Union law or the law of the Member State to which the Administrator is subject, which provides for suitable measures to safeguard the data subject's legitimate interests; or
- d) The personal data must remain confidential in accordance with an obligation of professional secrecy under Union or Member State law, including a statutory obligation of secrecy.

V. Obligation of transparent communication between the Administrator and the data subject (Article 12 GDPR):

- 1. The Administrator shall, in a concise, clear, intelligible and easily accessible form, in clear and plain language in particular when the information is addressed to a child - provide the data subject with all the information referred to in Articles 13 and 14 of the GDPR and shall conduct all communications with the data subject pursuant to Articles 15 to 22 and 34 of the GDPR. The information shall be provided in writing or by other means, including, where appropriate, electronically. If the data subject so requests, the information may be provided orally, provided that the identity of the data subject is confirmed by other means.
- 2. If the Administrator has reasonable doubt as to the identity of the natural person making the request referred to in Articles 15 to 21 of the GDPR, the Administrator may request additional information necessary to confirm the identity of the data subject.

VI. Deadlines for compliance with information obligations by the Administrator

- 1. Where personal data are obtained from the data subject, all the information indicated above shall be provided to the data subject at the time of data acquisition.
- 2. Where the Administrator obtains the data indirectly, it shall comply with its information obligation within the following time limits:
 - a) Within a reasonable period after the personal data have been obtained - at the latest within one month - having regard to the specific circumstances of the processing of the personal data;
 - b) If the personal data are to be used for communication with the data subject - at the latest at the first such communication with the data subject; or
 - c) If it is intended to disclose personal data to another recipient, at the latest at the first disclosure.

VII. The Commission shall be assisted by the Personal Data Protection Working Party when processing personal data

Taking into account the nature, scope, context and purposes of the processing and the risk of violation of the rights or freedoms of natural persons of varying probability and severity, the Administrator has implemented appropriate technical and organizational measures to ensure that the processing is carried out in accordance with the GDPR and to be able to demonstrate this. These measures are reviewed and updated once every six months.

The obligations of Re Ltd, based in Bialystok, as a Administrator of personal data resulting directly from the GDPR are, in particular:

1. Data protection by design and data protection by default

In order to comply with this obligation, the Administrator has implemented appropriate technical and organizational measures, such as pseudonymization, designed to effectively implement data protection principles, such as data minimization, and to give the necessary safeguards to the processing in order to protect the rights of the data subjects as adequately as possible.

2. Entrustment of data for processing under a written contract

The Administrator shall only use the services of such processors that provide sufficient guarantees to implement appropriate technical and organizational measures to protect the rights of data subjects.

Processing by a processor shall be carried out on the basis of a contract or other legal instrument which is subject to Union or Member State law and which binds the processor and the Administrator, specifies the subject matter and duration of the processing, the nature and purpose of the processing, the type of personal data and categories of data subjects, the obligations and rights of the Administrator.

3. Security of processing.

Re Ltd. Based in Białystok has implemented and applies the following technical and organisational measures to minimise the risk of a personal data breach:

- a) Pseudonymisation and encryption of personal data;
- b) The ability to continuously ensure the confidentiality, integrity, availability and resilience of the processing systems and services;
- c) The ability to rapidly restore the availability of and access to personal data in the event of a physical or technical incident;
- d) Regular testing, measurement and evaluation of the effectiveness of technical and organisational measures to ensure the security of processing.

In assessing whether the degree of security is adequate, the Administrator shall take into account in particular the risks involved in the processing, in particular those arising from the accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, modification, unauthorised disclosure of or unauthorised access to personal data transmitted, stored or otherwise processed.

4. Notification of a personal data breach to the supervisory authority.

In the event of a personal data breach, the Administrator shall, without undue delay where possible, and no later than 72 hours after the breach is identified, notify the breach to the supervisory authority, unless the breach is unlikely to result in a risk of infringement of the rights or freedoms of natural persons. The Administrator shall attach an explanation of the reasons for the delay to the notification submitted to the supervisory authority after the expiry of 72 hours.

If the personal data breach is likely to result in a high risk of violation of the rights or freedoms of natural persons, the Administrator shall notify the data subject of such breach without undue delay.

5. Conducting a data protection impact assessment.

Where a particular type of processing - in particular using new technologies - by its nature, scope, context and purposes is likely to result in a high risk of interference with the rights or freedoms of natural persons, the Administrator shall, prior to the start of the processing, carry out an assessment of the effects of the intended processing operations on the protection of personal data.

6 Conducting prior consultation.

If the data protection impact assessment indicates that the processing would cause a high risk if the Administrator did not take measures to minimise that risk, the Administrator shall consult the supervisory authority on the possibilities and modalities of the processing before the processing begins.

VIII.Processing of data of minors

By definition, all activities of Re Ltd. With its registered office in Białystok are addressed to adults who can make decisions or influence their decision-making. If the legal guardians of a minor become aware of the fact that the minor has filled in the form available on the websites belonging to the Administrator, they should contact the Administrator in order to have the data deleted from the database, or to withdraw their consent by sending an appropriate e-mail to: contact@renteye.com.

IX.Rights of users of websites owned by Re Ltd.

Data subject:

- a) Is entitled to obtain confirmation from the Administrator as to whether personal data relating to him or her is being processed and, if it is, is entitled to obtain access to it and a range of information (Article 15 GDPR),
- b) Has the right to request from the Administrator the immediate rectification of personal data concerning him/her that is inaccurate (Article 16 GDPR),
- c) Has the right to request from the Administrator the immediate erasure of personal data concerning him/her in specified circumstances (Article 17 GDPR),
- d) Has the right to require the Administrator to restrict data processing in specified circumstances (Article 18 GDPR),
- e) Has the right to receive, in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format, the personal data concerning him/her which the Administrator has provided,
- f) Has the right, in the cases mentioned, to have that personal data sent to another Administrator without hindrance from the Administrator to whom the data was provided (Article 20 GDPR),
- g) Has the right to object to the processing of personal data concerning him/her (Article 21 GDPR), has the right not to be subject to a decision which is based solely on automated processing of his/her personal data, including profiling (Article 22 GDPR).

The Administrator shall allow the data subject the aforementioned rights under the terms of the EU Data Protection Regulation.

X. Amendment of the Privacy Policy

Re Ltd. Based in Białystok reserves the right to change the above Privacy Policy by publishing an amendment to the current or new Privacy Policy on this website. If you have additional questions about the Privacy Policy, the Administrator can be contacted at the following email address: contact@renteye.com